

Telescope Check List

Instructions: Write down what you want on the blanks, and if a used telescope comes up you have the check boxes to quickly let you know if it is worth taking a look at it.

- Manufacturer or Brand? _____
- Model Number? _____
- Type of telescope? _____
- Aperture Diameter? _____
- Mount Type? _____
- Magnification Ability? _____
- Price Range? _____
- Eyepieces Wanted: _____

What is the same telescope's new price? _____

Typically a used telescope can run 50% of the price of new from a private individual. A shop can get up to 80% the value of new. They will offer warranty most likely though.

Of course, use your own judgment; a telescope still in its box and never used, or barely used has a higher value than the same telescope stored in a garbage bag.